The Background & Context

Information is key and therefore our COVID-19 regulatory compliance training, as directed by legislation, is structured to fill the gaps on COVID-19 awareness and preparation which is critically important to minimise and prevent the risk of a DEL inspector shutting down a workplace due to non-compliance with the COVID-19 directives. The information shared in COVID-19 training is not just important and applicable to workplaces but also to eg places where people gather such as churches, conference centres, education institutions, hospitality industry hotels and b&b's, restaurants, beauty salons etc and also to be shared in homes. Everyone who has an interest in protecting themselves and their loved ones against the global pandemic, COVID-19 Coronavirus, should attend a COVID-19 Compliance Preparedness and Awareness Training session presented by a professional training provider.
